

Diane Dumas

I am originally from Colorado, but have also lived in Missouri, Arizona, Maryland, and in several cities in southern California. I enjoy traveling, writing, reading, baking, watching movies, and taking ballroom dance classes.

I received my Bachelor's Degree and teaching credential from the University of San Diego in 2001. A few years ago I obtained my MAE with an emphasis in reading. I have taught several different grades (2nd, 3rd, and 4th, 7th-8th, 9th-12th) in many unique school environments. I have also been trained in ABA (applied behavioral analysis) and have worked as a behavioral therapist with developmentally delayed children.

I am excited to be a part of the GSDA team.
