

Michelle D'Augusta

Family is one of the most important words in my vocabulary. I love my children, parents and extended family. And I am so pleased to have developed a second family at Greater San Diego Academy. With each parent and student I meet, my family grows. I am so very lucky!

Before coming to GSDA, I taught for San Diego City Schools for 12 years. I taught Kindergarten through 6th grade including GATE students, special education students and English language learners. I enjoy teaching all subjects, but I have a special fondness for science and writing.

I developed my own writing skills at UC, San Diego, where I received my Bachelor's Degree in Literature and Writing. I then attended San Diego State University and earned my multiple subject teaching credential with a supplementary in English and English as a Second Language.

In my free time, I love to work in my garden, play with our many pets, and spend every moment possible with my amazing daughter, Kyra, and my incredible son, Enzo.
